

CONNECTING CLASSROOMS through Global Learning

May 2020; Covid-19 Update

As coronavirus (Covid-19) continues to restrict movement and face to face meetings, CODEC are committed to supporting your global learning delivery and professional development at a time when all of us are having to find new ways of working. To support you further during this time of change, we have secured continued free access to the Global Teachers Award training for those in state-funded schools, nursery settings, PRUs and 6th form/ FE colleges in England. Funded and approved for delivery within the CPD offer of Connecting Classrooms through Global Learning.

Up to the end of summer, CODEC Trainers will be delivering all our GTA courses online and continuing our relationship with British Council and DFID UK as provider of one of the most successful courses within Connecting Classrooms through Global Learning.

We've redesigned our face-to-face course to ensure your learning needs are met, your perspectives challenged and your professional practice inspired!

Our online courses are live sessions, on easy to use online platforms, include collaborative learning as well as individual and small group offline activities, with virtual coaching and mentoring by our experienced specialist trainers.

We will be working hard to make sure you get a similar level of interaction, collaborative learning and specialist facilitator support as you would in our face to face training.

Please note that places must be booked in advance and are very limited.

CONNECTING CLASSROOMS

through Global Learning

Face to Face course update - April 2020

Due to the impact of Covid-19, all Global Teachers Award face-to-face courses are suspended until further notice.

The latest update on the Connecting Classrooms through Global Learning programme is available here: <https://connecting-classrooms.britishcouncil.org/update>

If you are expecting to attend a specific Global Teacher Award course, do contact your trainer about your course booking.

CoDEC are working on alternative modes of online training delivery, for teachers and educators in England, in partnership with British Council. Keep checking this page - we hope to have news on a revised training offer in the next few weeks.
